2. These clearances are quite necessary in order that the Center may proceed to work with contractors on computer programming. This phase of the special project planning probably will require a minimum of four months lead time from the time of the acceptance of a proposal. Accordingly, prompt action is called for and [Redacted] Chief of Technical Intelligence Branch and senior photogrammetrist, and [Redacted] [Redacted] the Center's sole computer programmer, are the only men available and competent to handle this matter. Without their participation in the project, we cannot proceed with contract negotiations with any assurance that deadlines will be met or appropriate attention given this important phase of the project.
